The Road that saves you waiting for trains

HESPELER, Ont., May 1st, 1906.

To Hespelerites the Wide World Over :—

The people of the old town have arranged a series of doings for June 30th, July 1st, 2nd and 3rd and they want you to takepart in the festivities.

The entire Home Guard will serve as reception and entertainment committees and no effort will be spared to make your visit pleasant and memorable.

It's sure going to be worth coming for—this big time that's billed to happen—and even if your ticket reads from the other end of the earth, you are guaranteed a good and ample run for the money.

The pleasure of grasping the hand and looking into the eyes of some dear old friend—the comfort of a real chat over old times and old chums, will, we know, appeal to you, and we do sincerely hope that the attraction will prove strong enough to land you here during Re-union week.

Just to see the faces of the friends of by-gone days, just to hear again the voices that you used to know, just to feel the welcome in the hand clasp that will greet you, will dispel the weariness of the longest journey and atone for almost any amount of personal sacrifice.

The old friends will be here ; hundreds of 'em are coming—coming home in the joyous anticipation of a return to the scenes and the days that have been. Coming to live over again—if only for a short time—the memories, cherished, treasured and nurtured, in a heart's store house, and we want you, too. We want to see your face in the circle for Auld Lang Syne.

We've provided heaps of entertainment, loads of fun, sport in abundance, and glad hands galore.

The old town waits to welcome you, the latch-string's hanging out, the spare bed's been well aired, the pantry's full up, and we're ready and waiting to take you in and prove that you haven't made a mistake in keeping that little spot deep down in your heart sacred to the memory of the good old town.

COME ON HOME.

Yours,

WINFIELD BREWSTER, Secretary.
